... bottle or other primary packaging

Any change to one of these elements requires R&D steps (with testing and notifications), regulatory steps (PIF adaptation or creation), and labelling updates (proofreading and artwork).

- ... primary packaging ... labelling

The creation and development of a room mist is quicker than for a cosmetic product, because it does not require a PIF (as it is not intended for application to the skin).

WHITE FLOWERS (SPRING)

Inspired by Switzerland's blooming parks

Geneva and its Japanese cherry trees, Vevey and its flower-lined lakeshore, Morges and its tulip festival, Locarno and its camellias.

Focus example – Geneva / Zurich

Like a spring stroll among buds and blossoms awakening to life, it evokes renewal, a new beginning. It's an invitation to contemplate these delicate promises in bloom, perfect yet fragile, already hinting at the forbidden fruits to come.

COTTON (WINTER)

Inspired by the fresh mountain air and the medicinal plants growing on Swiss hillsides, whose herbal infusions comfort and invigorate us during winter.

Focus example – The Swiss Alps

Like a breath of fresh air in the heart of winter, crisp yet tender, it awakens and refreshes while wrapping us in a feeling of cocooning warmth. A cup of herbal tea made from summer-picked plants warms the hands by the fireside, as snow gently falls outside.

SIGNATURE COMPOSITIONS – SYNTHETIC FRAGRANCES

SUMMER VIBES (SUMMER)

Inspired by Swiss lakes and their beaches, a moment of leisure, the scent of vanilla ice cream, and the joy of doing nothing.

Focus example – Lakes Geneva, Maggiore, Lugano in summer

The gentle warmth of the beach and the quiet moments stolen from busy days. The sun softly brushes your shoulders, your body relaxes, your mind drifts away.

Simple, fleeting moments that create a bubble of serenity, just the carefree feeling of summer itself.

WOODY (AUTUMN)

Inspired by the many urban parks of Switzerland that offer the strange sensation of being deep in the forest while still in the heart of the city. A green escape, a natural pause amid urban life.

Focus example – Bern (Collegiate Terrace)

Like an October day filled with quiet nostalgia, it invites you to walk in silence through the woods. The air is cool and perfumed with moss and earth; coloured leaves gently fall, redrawing the landscape. A discreet call to savour the last rays of the sun, the ones that warm without burning, that awaken without tiring. A soft light that lays tenderness upon the melancholy.
